The Reformation Never Ends

Reformation and All Saints' Days (Observed)

- When Martin Luther nailed those ninety-five theses to the church door in Wittenberg, he was not launching a movement so much as _____.
- His discovery - rediscovery - of the Gospel was not an act of rebellion but a desperate search for _____.
- What Luther found was not new, but eternal: "the eternal gospel," as Revelation 14 calls it - the good news that Christ _____ through faith apart from works of the law.
- That Gospel still flies, like the angel in midheaven, crying out to every nation, tribe, language, and _____.
- It moves - freely, tenderly, endlessly - through the _____, preached and poured, given and received.

The Eternal Gospel: Revelation 14:6-7

- John's vision is strange and glorious: an angel flying in midheaven, proclaiming an _____.
- It is the same Gospel Abraham believed beneath the stars, the same Gospel Isaiah cried from the temple, the same Gospel Paul preached to Rome, and the same Gospel that came roaring through _____.

- The Gospel is not a demand for religious performance but an announcement of _____.

- Freedom is not found in self-expression, self-definition, or self-salvation - the three great _____ of our age.
- Luther, in The Freedom of a Christian begins with the paradox: "A Christian is a perfectly free lord of all, subject to none. A Christian is a perfectly dutiful servant of all, subject to _____."
- Your worth is not in what you do, but what you do now flows from who you already are in _____.
- When Jesus says, "If the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed," He is describing not only the release from sin's penalty but the _____ of the image of God.
- That is what the means of grace do - they restore _____, here and now.

The Righteousness of God: Romans 3:19-28

- Revelation shows the Gospel proclaimed. John shows the Gospel freeing. Paul shows the Gospel _____.
- "We hold that one is justified by faith _____ works of the law."

- That brings us to today's second theme: All Saints. The Reformation was never meant to erase the saints but to _____.
- The saints remind us what the Gospel can make of ordinary _____.
- And so let this Reformation Day, crowned with All Saints' joy, call you again to the font, to the altar, to the Word - the places where the eternal Gospel still

Our Lutheran Faith:

Baptism and the Lord's Supper

We believe that in Holy Baptism, God Himself acts—washing away sin, granting new birth by the Spirit, and uniting us with Christ's death and resurrection. Baptism is not a symbol of our commitment, but a gift of grace in which God claims us as His own and makes us heirs of eternal life.

In the Lord's Supper, Christ comes to us personally and bodily—His true body and blood given and shed for the forgiveness of sins. This holy meal is not merely a remembrance, but a participation in the very life of Christ, strengthening faith and binding us together in His love.

Both Baptism and the Supper are pure Gospel - signs that do what they promise, delivering Christ's forgiveness to sinners and sustaining us in His grace.
